Did you have a baby when you were 25 or under?

If so, we’d love for you to write a blog or film a vlog for Little Lullaby! You don’t have to have experience or special equipment, just you and a story, experience or advice you want to share about being a young parent!

Can you inspire other young parents?

Interested?

Great! Please email info@littlelullaby.org.uk, including the age you were when you became a parent and we’ll be in touch.
By young parents, for young parents

Little Lullaby is a website dedicated to young mums and dads. We’re letting the world know that there’s nothing young parents can’t do!

Feel supported
Get advice from other young parents about pregnancy, birth and parenthood.

Talk to other young mums and dads
Chat, ask questions and share your story with our community.

Give your baby the best start
Reduce the risk of sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) by following our safer sleep for babies advice.
